

I am sending this brief asking you to be careful with this particular issue. I believe the a la carte issue is a great idea as a consumer, however it will severely limit the reach and scope of valuable religious programming. I admit there is some of this programming which is 'out there' and too aggressive, however so much of this programming is extremely valuable. Please consider the fact that this particular legislation may limit the number of households where this programming may be available. Thank you for your time.
